"WHO'S YOUR TAILOR?"

There's a satisfaction in patronizing the best tailor. It takes all the responsibility off of you.

If Gatchel does your tailoring, you can just leave it to him. You can't be any more particular about the fit and appearance of your clothes than he is. He will criticize the garments in the "try-on" and see that they fit and drape correctly.

One of the best and most inexpensive models Gatchel has ever produced is his famous "navy" suit, at $35.

MEETS AT ST. ALBANS

Diocesan Convention of Episcopalians Opens To-day.

BISHOP PRESIDING OFFICER

Hundred Clergy and Many Lay Men Will Attend—Session This Evening at Church of Epiphany Devoted to Missions—Men's Thanks Offering. To Start with Missionary Meeting.

The diocesan convention of the Episcopal church meets to-day in St. Alban's Church. The services begin promptly at 10 o'clock with the celebration of the holy communion.

Immediately after the service the convention will be called to order by the bishop, who will be the convention's presiding officer, and he will deliver at once his annual address.

The address deals, in part, with the work accomplished during the year past, and in part with the subjects upon which action of the convention may be desired. It is expected that close upon 100 clergymen will be in attendance, and as many laymen.

Will Start with Missionary Meeting.

In view of the forthcoming general convention of the church, to be held at Richmond, Va., next October, and which is the chief legislative body of the Protestant Episcopal church, the diocesan conventions now being held are usually of much interest, as questions are taken up in the diocesan conventions which are likely to be discussed in the general session, and delegates are often elected on the issues involved.

The first evening of the convention is commonly devoted to the subject of missions. This year the rule will be observed, but the meeting will be held at the Church of the Epiphany on G street. Instead of at St. Alban's. Evening prayer will be said at 7:30, and missionary addresses will be made at 8 p. m. After a short address by the secretary of the men's thank offering, there will be a discussion of social, sanitary, and colored work in the diocese, and then the report of the treasurer of diocesan missions will be heard.

The Men's Thanks Offering.

The men's thank offering is a general offering of the men of the Protestant Episcopal Church for 300 years of Christianity. It being on Friday next the 30th anniversary of the celebration of the holy communion for the first time in America. It is intended to present this offering next October when the general convention is in session.

Besides Bishop Satterlee, who is presiding officer, the other officers of the convention or diocese, are Rev. Arthur S. Johns, secretary of the convention; Charles H. Stanley, of Laurel, chancellor of the diocese; W. H. Singleton, treasurer of the diocese; Charles J. Bell, treasurer of the Bishop of Washington. The assistant secretaries of the convention are Rev. H. Allen Griffith and John Lane Johns.

PRINTERS' BALLOT TO-DAY.

Officers and Delegates of Typographical Union to Be Elected.

Officers and delegates of the Columbia Typographical Union will be elected by the members of that organization to-day. The voting will take place in the various shops where members are employed, and where ballot boxes have been erected.

The count of votes will begin at 6 o'clock in Columbia Typographical Temple, and it is said that the result will be definitely known by 9 o'clock to-night. For many of the officers there is no competition, and W. F. O'Brien, George G. Seibold, James E. Bright, and Joseph C. Whyte will fill the positions of vice president, secretary, treasurer, and trustee, respectively. For the presidency, a hot fight is predicted between J. Monroe Kreiter and T. C. Parsons, both of whom have made a vigorous campaign.

For the positions of delegates from the Government Printing Office, of which there are three to be elected, there are six men in the field—Harry W. Templar, W. R. Love, H. J. Redfield, John Huston, John Onyon, and Stephen M. Simpson. For delegate from the downtown district, the names of Charles I. Willey and B. S. Feehey have been presented.

WINS PRIZE MEDAL.

Miss Myrtle Cameron Writes the Best Essay.

Miss Myrtle Cameron, of the McKinley Manual Training School, was awarded the prize of a bronze medal and a $10 goldpiece, offered by the Sons of the Revolution for the best essay on the subject, "Did Lee's Conduct at Monmouth Justify His Removal by Washington?"

Any pupil in the local high school was eligible for the contest.

The essays were signed with pseudonyms, Miss Myrtle using the name of "Graeme Douglas," giving the committee of award no clue to the identity of the writer.

John W. Noyes, of Central High School, was awarded second prize. The other contestants—Miss Emily Sprightly, of Eastern, and Miss Augusta P. Martin, also of Central—ranked in the order named.

The medal, bearing a suitable inscription, will be presented at the school commencement in June.

SCHOOL SITE SELECTED.

Portion of Howard University to Make Room for New Building.

A portion of the Howard University subdivision has been selected as a site for one of the new sixteen-room school buildings, bids for the construction of which will be advertised within a few days. Congress appropriated $125,000 for the school, $25,000 of which will be expended for the purchase of the site, and the remainder in the construction of the building.

The building will provide accommodation for the pupils of the old Mott school, Sixth and Bryant streets northwest, which will be used, however, for a year or more before it is entirely abandoned. Actual construction work on the new building will begin about the first week in June.

FAVOR UNION LEAGUE CLUB

Washingtonians Express Approval of George H. Beaman's Suggestions.

Superintendent W. E. Chancellor and Attorney W. C. Dodge Write Letters Offering Co-operation.

Co-operation and interest in the Union League Club, as suggested by George Herbert Beaman, for the arbitration of labor disputes between union leaders and representative business men of the community, has already been promised. Mr. Beaman has received numerous inquiries with reference to the proposed organization, as well as several communications from different citizens, including William E. Chancellor, superintendent of schools. One of the letters to Mr. Beaman says: "You will do more for the benefit of the nation than all the politicians in the land."

In his letter Mr. Chancellor says: "I should count it an honor to be included in the membership of a Union League club for the District of Columbia. In case any funds are required for the work of preliminary organization, I shall be very glad to respond to a call."

Another communication is from W. C. Dodge, attorney and solicitor of patents. Mr. Dodge's letter is as follows: "I notice in The Washington Herald that you propose the organization of a Union League club for the purpose of endeavoring to secure peace between the union laborers and their employers. I wish you good speed in the good work. If you can secure the organization of a league, or any concern that can put an end to the strikes, boycotts, and their attendant outrages, not only on nonunion men, but upon the general public, who are the greatest sufferers, you will do more for the benefit of the nation than all the politicians in the land."

"I sincerely hope you may succeed, but when I see how unreasonable the unions act, I fear for the result. Congress and the States ought to act on the subject, as some other governments have; but, unfortunately, our political demagogues will not do anything, because they want the votes of the union men."

"Unless something is done to protect the general public from the outrages and losses due to the strikes and boycotts, I do not know what is to become of us. I will be most happy to co-operate in any way possible to put an end to the existing troubles."

DISCUSS ROCK CREEK PLANS.

National Society Committee Hold Enthusiastic Meeting.

A special committee of the National Society of Fine Arts, having charge of the preservation of the valley of Rock Creek, held an enthusiastic meeting last Monday afternoon at the residence of Charles M. Foulke, 201 Massachusetts avenue northwest, where matters pertaining to the purchase of more land for the park reservation was discussed.

Glen Brown, chairman of the committee, read a review of the work of the committee in past years, pointing out what had been accomplished in the purchase and improvement of the Zoo Park, Rock Creek Park, Riverside Park, and the Mall. He described the general plan for the permanent covering of the stream below the P street bridge.

Mrs. Patten made a report upon recent legislation enacted by Congress for the acquisition of additional land for the park on the east side, and her report was referred to a special committee with instructions to report, with a map of the plots to be purchased, at a future meeting.

A suggestion was made that the committee should confer with the trustees of George Washington University with a view to the acquisition of a university site near the park, which would result in a permanent addition to its beauty.

The "Hornblower" plan of damming the stream at Massachusetts avenue and forming a lake for aquatic sports in summer and skating in winter, was also discussed.

Echo of Story Cotton Crash.

An echo of the crash of the Story Cotton Company in Philadelphia a year or more ago came before the Supreme Court, on the request of Stanley Francis, of that company, for the review by the court of his conviction and sentence of five years and $5,000 fine for using the mails to defraud in connection with the business of the corporation. He was tried and sentenced in three cases, while seventeen others are still pending.
